I have been passionately interested in art since childhood, taking advantage of every opportunity to visit museums while living in Korea, Africa, Europe, Mexico and most major cities throughout the United States. I have kept my passion for painting alive for twenty five years by attending weekly oil painting classes at the Coppini Academy of Fine Arts and attending workshops with nationally recognized master artists such as Clayton Beck, Laura Robb, David A. Leffel, Juliette Aristides, Vincent Valdez, Qiang Huang, and Tony Pro. For twenty years I worked at the San Antonio Military Medical Center to develop programs that support wounded veterans. I have two wonderful daughters who live in San Antonio and am now retired living in the Texas Hill Country where I strive weekly to paint a glow I see in old, interesting objects. I feel joy when customers tell me my paintings make them feel peaceful or that they are drawn to a light in my paintings that give beauty to an ordinary object. I am represented in the River Arts Gallery located in La Villita, San Antonio and www.dailypaintworks.com.
